

ESAU ON WARPATH AGAIN

Negro Desperado Threatens to Kill Two Officers

LOADED WITH BAD WHISKEY

Drives George Tinsley, With Whom he Recently Fought Three Duels, Out of Klondyke—Wants Life of Policemen Earp and Whitfield.

Loaded with bad whiskey and armed with a big revolver, Esaus Johnson, the negro desperado who fought three pistol duels with George Tinsley, another negro, in Rocketts ten days ago, went on the warpath again last night in Klondyke, a negro settlement just beyond the southern limits of the city and near the waterfront.

When he started Johnson "towed" that he just wanted to kill Tinsley, Police Officer Earp, of the police force and Officer Whitfield, of the Bloodfield force, and that then he would feel "quits" with the world. However, so far as has been reported at 1:30 o'clock this morning he hadn't killed anything except a number of drinks.

Sergeant T. A. Mitchell, Acting Detective Sergeant Samuel Pearson and Patrolman E. L. Parrish started out at midnight to look for and arrest Johnson, but at a late hour this morning they had not succeeded in locating him. The officers will continue the search for the negro today and propose to catch him or run him out of the city.

The first intimation that the police received that Johnson was again on the warpath was when Tinsley came to the station house about 11 o'clock and reported that the desperado had driven him out of Klondyke. Tinsley remained at the station house until the three officers started out after the man and he accompanied them on the search.

Terrorizes Women. Tinsley gives Johnson a bad reputation. He says that Johnson terrorizes the negro women of Klondyke by holding them up and robbing them of any valuables that they may have and if they offer any resistance he beats them. Asked what caused the recent pistol duel between himself and Johnson, the latter said he never had any "words" with Johnson and that the latter is "just a bad man." The pair fought three duels Thanksgiving day.

Tinsley escaped without being hit, but Johnson received two bullet wounds in the left arm. They were both flesh wounds and are practically healed now so Tinsley says.

AUDEVILLE AND PICTURES

Large audiences apparently were delighted with the show at the Bell theater during the past week and the management reports that the week was a most successful one. The crowds last night were unusually large, scores being kept waiting outside of the building during some of the performances.

Manager Bell says that he has secured for the first three days of this week three much-heralded acts, the leading one of which is Curran and Milton in what is represented to be a high-class comedy sketch. Harry Ehret, a novelty vocalist, is the second number on the bills, and the Langwood sisters, who appear in a comedy sketch, conclude the vaudeville offering. All of these acts come highly recommended.

Besides the vaudeville acts, the usual high class life motion pictures will be shown.

FRENCH LOSE FOURTH CONSECUTIVE GAME

Irish and Indians Tied for First Place in Basketball Tournament at Y. M. C. A.

The French basketball team lost its fourth consecutive game in the Young Men's Christian Association tournament last night, being walloped by the Indians to the tune of 39 to 9. The French never had the ghost of a show to win and it was only a question of how big a score the Indians would roll up.

In a spirited game the Irish beat the Dutch by a score of 25 to 21. This game was close and exciting throughout and the enthusiasts gathered in the gymnasium had plenty of opportunity to cheer their favorites.

The Irish and Indians are tied for first place, each having won three and lost one game. The Dutch have won two and lost two and the French have won none.

HIDDEN DANGERS.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Newport News Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin pale and foamy, or a thick, red dissolving urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL NO. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Newport News proof:

F. E. Wood, 555 Twenty-ninth street, Newport News, Va., says: "For two years my back was very lame and I could not do any stooping, but what pains would eat through my loins! The kidney secretions passed irregularly and annoyed me greatly. Last winter I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Klor's drug store and they brought prompt relief. I am now in good health since and my back and kidneys have caused me no trouble. My advice to anyone suffering from kidney complaint is to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

CARS IN COLLISION; THREE MEN ARE HURT

Two Motormen and Conductor Out by Flying Glass When Crash Comes.

Motormen E. S. Tyrell and H. E. Cheatham and Conductor E. S. Morris were painfully but not seriously injured shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday morning when cars Nos. 31 and 36 of the Newport News & Old Point railway line collided head-on in the switch on Twenty-seventh street between Oak avenue and Parish avenue, in East End. Both cars were badly damaged; the front end of each being smashed while car No. 31 was partially telescoped by one of the cars of sand which it was pulling.

Both cars were equipped with hand brakes. No. 31 was bound east and hauling three flat cars loaded with sand and No. 36 was bound for the shipyard with a number of workmen. None of the passengers was injured, although all of them were more or less shaken up.

It is said that both cars reached the switch at the same time and each motorman thought that he had the right of way. The cars went into the short switch together and before they could be stopped with the hand brakes they crashed into each other.

Motorman Cheatham jumped from his car and escaped with a few cuts on his hands made by flying glass. Motorman Tyrell remained on
